BIOGRAPHY

EARLY LIFE

Mrs. Regina Dartebea Opare (née Offei) was born on 1st December 1967 to the late Mr. Jacob Godfred Offei of Mampong-Akwapim and the late Mrs. Mercy Ampofoa Offei of Kukurantumi-Akim. She was the youngest of her mother's seven children and her father's twenty-one children.

Regina was known from an early age for her warmth, diligence, and deep sense of responsibility. She grew into a woman of strong Christian values who believed in hard work, perseverance, education, and service to others. These enduring principles shaped her approach to family, work, and community, defining the lasting legacy she leaves behind.

EDUCATION

Regina began her schooling at Nana Kwaku Boateng Experimental School in Koforidua and completed her secondary education at New Juaben Secondary Commercial School in 1985. She went on to attend St. Monica Training College in Mampong-Ashanti, qualifying as a professional teacher in 1988.

Her commitment to education did not end with her professional training; Regina remained a lifelong learner and continued to pursue higher education while building her career and raising her family. Over the years, she earned a Diploma in Statistics from the University of Ghana, Legon (2008), a Diploma in Basic Education from the University of Cape Coast (2014) , a Bachelor of Education from the University of Education, Winneba (2018) and a Master of Education from the University of Education, Winneba (2019).

BIOGRAPHY

Regina tackled her studies with unmatched discipline. Her dedication was so intense that her children would playfully tease her: "Mummy, there is no First Class awarded for a Master's programme!" Her academic accomplishments stood as a powerful testament to her perseverance and her conviction that it is never too late to seek knowledge and self-improvement.

MARRIAGE AND FAMILY LIFE

In December 1990, Regina married the love of her life, Mr. David Opare, and their union was blessed with three beloved daughters:Christiana, Dorothy, and Loveness. Family was the cornerstone of Regina's life. As a devoted mother, she worked tirelessly to provide her daughters with the finest educational opportunities while nurturing their spiritual growth.

Her deepest aspiration was to raise daughters defined not only by their academic accomplishments, but by their Christian faith, integrity, and compassion. As a grandmother, she found immense joy in cherishing her grandchildren and actively participating in their lives.

To her loved ones, Regina was far more than a matriarch; she was a trusted confidante, a pillar of wisdom, and a dependable sanctuary with whom they shared life's greatest joys, triumphs, and trials.

BIOGRAPHY

LIFE AS AN EDUCATOR

Upon graduating from St. Monica Training College in 1988, Regina began her teaching career at Jumapo Presbyterian Primary 'B', serving until 1991. Following her marriage, she took a leave of absence to join her husband in Zambia, where they started their family.

Upon her return to Ghana, she resumed teaching in the public school system, serving at Samsam-Accra Presbyterian Primary School (1997–1998) and New Abossey Okai 'B' Primary School (1998–2003).

In 2003, Regina took another leave to travel abroad, visiting her brothers, Pino and Agyei, in Germany before residing for a period in London with her husband's niece, Mrs. Elizabeth Adjoa Seisewa Amponsah.

Committed to raising her daughters at home, Regina returned to Ghana in 2005 and briefly engaged in private enterprise. Driven by her enduring love for the classroom, she returned to teaching in 2011 at Abossey Okai '1' Primary School, later transferring to Kaneshie Bishop 1 & 2 Primary School, where she dedicated herself faithfully until her passing.

Spanning more than three decades, Regina's career was defined by a profound sense of purpose. To her, teaching was never merely a job, it was a sacred calling to inspire young minds, nurture character, and build the foundation for future generations. The countless students whose lives she shaped remain an enduring part of her legacy.

ENTREPRENEURIAL JOURNEY

Outside the classroom, Regina was a hardworking and resourceful woman with a strong entrepreneurial spirit. Her passion for baking began in Zambia, where she made and sold bread.

Later, after exploring other ventures including trading in fabric and cement, she opened her own shop in 2009 specialising in flour and baking supplies. Even after a long day of teaching, Regina would go straight to her shop to work. Her energy, determination and drive were remarkable. She also cared deeply about helping people around her grow.

She encouraged local bakers and traders to buy goods on credit and in bulk so they could bake more, sell more, and make better profits.

CHARACTER & PERSONALITY

If there was one thing everyone knew about Regina, it was that she had a big and generous heart.Even on a modest teacher's salary, she always found something to give.

She never waited until she had plenty before reaching out to help. Every single month, she quietly set aside food items and money from what she had to support those struggling around her. She never gave for praise or attention; helping others was just second nature to her.

Regina's generosity went far beyond money and food. She freely gave her time, a listening ear, sound advice, and warm encouragement. Whenever someone needed support, she was right there with a helping hand and a prayer. She lived her life demonstrating that giving was never about how much one had, but about having a willing and compassionate heart.

Throughout her life, Dartebea walked with humility, kindness, and deep faith, touching everyone around her with her gentle spirit.

CHRISTIAN LIFE & SERVICE

Dartebea was a devoted Christian and a dedicated member of the Redemption Presbyterian Church of Ghana, New Gbawe, where she actively served in the Women's Fellowship.

She joined the congregation in its early days when her family moved close to the church's first location, throwing herself wholeheartedly into God's work. She served on the Interim Management Committee during the church's formative years.

On 1st July 2001, during the church's very first presbyter elections, she was elected as one of nine presbyters. Following their induction on 22nd July 2001 by the then Kaneshie District Minister, Rev. E. Agyem-Frimpong, she had the honour of becoming the church's first Session Clerk.

BIOGRAPHY

After returning from the United Kingdom in October 2005, she rejoined the Session, faithfully serving two terms over eight years. From 2022 until January 2026, she once again served as Assistant Clerk of Session. Following a brief illness, she was called to eternal rest on Sunday, 6th September 2026. She now rests peacefully in the bosom of her Lord and Maker.

HER LEGACY

Mrs. Regina Dartebea Opare is survived by her beloved husband and three daughters, whose lives she shaped with love, wisdom and purpose. She also leaves behind cherished grandchildren, siblings, extended family and friends who benefited from her counsel, care and affection.

Her influence extends beyond family to former pupils whose lives she shaped through teaching and people she quietly supported through generosity and kindness.

Most importantly, Regina leaves behind an example: a life of faith in God, devotion to family, commitment to service, perseverance through life's challenges and a generous heart that gave even when she had little.

Though her earthly journey has ended, the values she lived by, the lives she touched and the love she shared will continue to speak for her. Her legacy will live on in those privileged to know her and in generations to come.

May her gentle soul rest in perfect peace.

TRIBUTE FROM HUSBAND

MR. DAVID OPARE

Yet you do not know what tomorrow will bring. What is your life?
For you are like vapour that appears for a little while, then vanishes.
James 4:14

Oh! Dartebea, as I affectionately called you, you were loving, lovely, and accommodating. I have truly lost a gem. You trusted me so much, so I tried my best to reciprocate that by doing what was right to appease you. Losing you is like losing my limbs.

Dartebea, I don't know what "chop money" means; am I now going to learn how to give that? There was always food at home; even when we had our petty quarrels, you still cooked, and I ate. What an understanding wife you were.

You were really a WOMAN OF SUBSTANCE, who saw that everything was near perfect at home. You made life so easy for me; no unnecessary nagging, no pestering, and no nitpicking.
I took pictures with my lady friends freely and attended functions with them, and the only thing you would do was check whether I was on my way home when it was getting late. What a wife you were! Loving you is one decision I have never regretted.

You were an exceptional mother; you saw to it that your children studied hard and passed their examinations at all costs. During their examination periods, nobody watched television in the house, not even me, until they had finished writing their papers. At night or at dawn, you would sit beside them whilst they studied, ensuring they stayed focused. You contributed immensely to their success in education.

TRIBUTE FROM HUSBAND

MR. DAVID OPARE

You were the anchor of our family and the light of my life. I am endlessly grateful for the 35 years we shared, years filled with your grace, laughter, understanding and unwavering strength. Your love made every single day brighter. Though your physical presence is gone, your spirit lives on in our children, our home, and my heart.

Our home was always humorous and jocular. I will deeply miss our playful moments.
Dartebea, whenever you were cooking in the kitchen, I would walk in and start chatting away, being the talkative person that I am. Whenever I started repeating myself, you would simply raise your left hand, silently teasing me that you had heard it all before. I would then jokingly fire back that we have been reading the Bible for decades and still quote the exact same chapters and verses, so why should I ever stop repeating my stories?

One day, as we sat in the hall watching television, I was proudly bragging about PRESEC, as any true Odadee would. You laughed, looked at me, and said, "Agyata" (my home name), "Those of us who had First Class degrees at the university don't brag like you." At the time, our first and second daughters had already graduated from university with first-class honours, and Dartebea had also earned a first class degree. Our third daughter was still in Senior High School. I reminded you that although I had graduated with a Second Class Lower, an Odadee would always be an Odadee, whether he passed his exams or not.

You then smiled and said, "Akura" (my nickname), "Tomorrow, the first-class ladies are going shopping, so you will clean the house and cook for us" , and I did exactly that the next day.

I remember one Sunday after church, when we got home, you went straight to the kitchen while I went into the bedroom and lay on the bed. You later came to the bedroom and said, "You men don't do anything...". I was caught in a tight corner, but luckily it was in December, so I smartly said, "Hmmm, you don't know, but I am thinking of how to get money to buy Christmas items for you and the children ooo". You just laughed and said, "woy3 Akura paaa." Akura, I will really miss our little happy moments. Who will tease me the way you did and laugh at my excuses?

Our love story started remotely. In August 1988, when I started working as the District Statistician at the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) in Koforidua, I became good friends with a lady named Dela (now Mrs. Dela Hammond, residing in the United States). She sold lottery tickets from a kiosk near my office, and I would often stop by to chat during my breaks. Over time, we grew so close that many colleagues assumed we were dating, though we were simply genuine friends. One day, she told me that after observing me closely, she knew me well enough to find me the perfect wife.

She mentioned Regina, but we never crossed paths while I was in Ghana. In November 1989, I left for Zambia to take up a teaching post. True to her word, Dela wrote to me and shared Regina's postal address. We began writing to each other, sparking a connection across borders. In December 1990, I travelled back to Ghana without telling Dartebea I was coming. Dela took me to meet her and the very moment I laid eyes on you, I was completely captivated and swept off my feet. Within a week, we were married.

You joined me in Zambia in the early part of 1991. We had Christiana Korantema Opare and Dorothy Ampofoa Opare in Zambia and Loveness Adobea Opare in Ghana. As I fondly put it, we planted her in Zambia and watered her in Ghana. We arrived in Ghana in April 1996 after my contract ended, ready to continue building our beautiful family. As a professional teacher, you continued your teaching career and impacted the lives of many pupils until your passing. From an unexpected beginning to 35 years of shared experiences, I remain deeply grateful for the life we built together, the love we shared, and the family we raised.

TRIBUTE FROM HUSBAND

When you joined the Redemption Presbyterian Church, I would drop you off at church and return home. You eventually sat me down, advised me and convinced me to attend church with you. Through your gentle persuasion, I later joined the church. You knew how to correct me without creating unnecessary conflict, and I am a better man for having shared my life with you. You were truly all in all for me. You were my correction fluid.

Dartebea, your kindness extended far beyond our home. You freely extended a helping hand without any demands to many people, both within and outside the church. Every month without fail, you gave me money and food items to distribute to people within the church. Your generosity knew no bounds. You were gentle, thoughtful and caring to all who came across you and you were admired by many. You could not stand unfairness and made sure people you came in touch with felt valued and uplifted. In every interaction, you shared a word of faith, hope, and encouragement.

Last year in July, we visited Christiana and granddaughters in Canada, and we really had fun. Why must death do this to you when you would have retired on the 1st of December 2027? I had looked forward to that season of our lives, Dartebea. And it is painful to know that I must now face it without you. I am saddened because all my plans for your retirement could not materialise.

Although you were unwell, you were nowhere near death, so on the day of your demise, I went to church in the morning and returned and had lunch. Later you began to show signs of weakness, and we rushed you to the hospital. But you gave up the ghost when we got to the hospital.

I never imagined that an ordinary day would become the day my life changed forever. My dear Dartebea, you have left me in pieces to fend for our grandchildren alone, but God knows best. I loved you in life and will continue to treasure you in death.

I know you loved me too.
Thank you for being the woman you were.
Thank you very much for making me who I am today.
Fare thee well. God be with you till we meet again.
Sleep well, my love. You will never be forgotten.

TRIBUTE FROM DAUGHTERS

"Her children rise up and call her blessed." Proverbs 31:28

Mummy, how do we begin to say goodbye to a woman who was such a huge part of our everyday lives?

You were more than our mother. You were our confidante, our prayer warrior, our counsellor, our biggest supporter and our safe place. We could tell you anything; our struggles, fears, failures and successes, and you would listen without making us feel judged. Somehow, after talking to you, life always seemed a little easier.

We spoke to you several times a day, individually and through our family conference calls. You knew our regular call times so well that if we did not call when expected, you would be the first to check on us. That was you, Mummy. Always checking, always caring, always making sure your children were alright.

And then there was your sense of humour!
We will never forget when you returned from the UK and announced that we should henceforth call you "Regina," but only if we could pronounce it properly with an accent. Or when we asked, "Mummy, which meat did you use to cook?" and you would reply, "The meat that the money you gave me could buy." We knew we had not given you any money, but that never stopped you from giving us that answer!
Today, we would give anything to have just one more of those conversations and share one more laugh with you.

Mummy, you were a woman of prayer and faith. Whenever anyone asked why you travelled to the Atwea Mountains to pray, your answer was always simple: "I go because I have daughters.
I go to pray for my girls." You prayed for our futures, marriages, children and every aspect of our lives. Even when we were unaware of the battles you were fighting on our behalf, you were on your knees, committing us into God's hands. Looking back, we realise that you were, in so many ways, living in answered prayers.

We are grateful that you lived to see us grow, achieve milestones, build our own families and experience most of the blessings you had spent years asking God to grant us. You also taught us that faith must be practised. You took our church responsibilities seriously, rehearsed our Bible readings and presentations with us, and ensured that we fulfilled our commitments to God's house. Our morning and evening devotions, with your Twi hymnbook and Bible, remain precious memories. You taught us hymns, scripture and the importance of prayer.

You trusted God with both the big things and the little things. We still smile when we remember how you would tell us that you had asked the Holy Spirit to help you find a missing item, and we would tease, "Mummy, even for this too?" But that was you. Nothing was too great to bring before God, and nothing was too ordinary to invite Him into.
The faith you modelled continues to live in us.

You were our example, our motivator and our first-class mother. You taught us to believe in ourselves, work hard and never settle for less than our best and you demonstrated this excellence through your own life. We remember how you woke us to study for examinations and sat beside us to ensure we did not turn over and go back to sleep. You invested in our future with every sacrifice you made.

Even while raising three children, you continued pursuing your own educational and professional goals, showing us that motherhood need not mean giving up on our ambitions. Whenever we push ourselves to achieve something difficult, we know that a part of that determination comes from you. Thank you for setting the bar high and showing us how to reach it.

One of the greatest gifts you gave us was the love you poured into our children.
You raised your first grandchild almost as your own, earning her the affectionate name "Grandma's last baby." We are grateful that you travelled to Canada to spend precious time with your grandchildren, and especially that you were there to witness the arrival of your first grandson. These are memories we will treasure forever.

Though the children are still too young to understand the depth of your love now, we will make sure they grow up knowing who you were and how deeply you loved them.

Mummy, you also taught us to celebrate life and be grateful. You never allowed our birthdays to pass without making them special, whether through a heartfelt card, a special dish or simply ensuring that we felt loved. We will always remember your 50th birthday celebration, a full day of activities just for the girls, with Daddy eventually joining in. You taught us that celebrations are not only about grand parties or expensive gifts, but about being intentional, showing love and giving thanks for the gift of life. We promise to carry that tradition forward.

Your kindness extended far beyond our family. You and Daddy gave generously to people who needed help, and as we grew older and started earning, you involved us in settling school fees, medical bills and providing groceries for others in need. You wanted us to understand that success is not measured only by what we have, but also by what we are willing to give. Through your example, you taught us compassion and selflessness. We pray that we will continue to live by these values and extend to others the same kindness you showed throughout your life.

Mummy, we will miss you in ways words cannot fully explain. We will miss our daily conversations, your questions, advice, prayers and laughter. We will miss knowing that you were just a phone call away, always checking whether we had eaten or whether everything was alright. We never imagined we would have to live without that comfort.

There will be moments when we instinctively reach for our phones to call you, or when something happens and you are the first person we want to tell.

In those moments, we will feel your absence most deeply. Yet, we take comfort in knowing that you lived a life of purpose. You loved deeply, prayed faithfully, served God and gave generously. You leave us a legacy of faith, kindness and love that will continue through us and the generations after us.

And Mummy, if heaven has a telephone, we know you will probably still be checking whether we have called! That thought makes us smile through our tears because it is so like you. You spent your life carrying our concerns before God. Today, we pray that you may rest peacefully, free from every pain and burden. You have fought your fight. You have finished your race. You have kept your faith.

Thank you for being our mother, our friend and our prayer warrior. Thank you for believing in us and loving us beyond words. We will tell your stories, remember your laughter and ensure your grandchildren know the remarkable woman their grandmother was.

We love you, Mummy!
We will continue to make you proud.
Until we meet again,
Da yie, Mummy.

TRIBUTE FROM GRANDCHILDREN

Our sweet Grandma, losing you has left a hole in our little hearts that can never be filled. Thank you for your warm hugs, your sweet smile, your prayers, and the beautiful stories you told us. You were our second mother, our prayer warrior, our greatest cheerleader. Your love was so gentle, your words were so kind, and your faith taught us how to love God. We will never forget how you called our names with so much love, how you prayed for us every day, and how you made every moment with you so special.

Though we will miss you sitting with us, laughing with us, and blessing us, we know you are resting with God. Your love will continue to guide us as we grow.

We love you forever, Grandma.
Da Yiye, Mama.

TRIBUTE FROM SONS-IN-LAW

Your absence leaves an emptiness in our hearts that no words could ever begin to heal. You were not just our mother-in-law, you became a mother, a confidant, a counsellor, and a precious part of our lives.

Mama will be remembered as a calm, easy-going and very likeable woman who was always approachable and easy to talk to. You had a way of making people feel welcome, and we are grateful for the kindness you showed us as your sons-in-law.

From the very first day, you made us feel like part of the family. You showed us a love that was genuine and unconditional. You never made us feel like outsiders; you embraced us as your own with open arms. You had a way of speaking that calmed the heart, a smile that lit up the room, and a faith that inspired us all. Your words were always seasoned with grace, and your presence was a blessing.

Your faith was central to your life, and we will always remember your devotion to prayer, particularly your online prayer sessions. You would share these links with us almost every time, always eager to encourage us to join in prayer. Your faith was evident not only in what you believed but also in how you lived, cared for others and went the extra mile to help whenever you could.

Mama Regina, although we wish we had more time with you, we are grateful for the time we shared, the conversations we had and the memories we made. Thank you for raising such wonderful children and for the life you lived as an example to us.

We will remember you fondly and remain grateful to God for the privilege of having known you. Our prayer is that the Lord grants you eternal rest and welcomes you peacefully into His presence

We will carry your memory in our hearts for the rest of our lives.
We know that one day we shall meet again.
Rest peacefully in the bosom of your Maker.
Da Yie Mama.

TRIBUTE FROM SIBLINGS

Our dearest sister...

Putting these words together is one of the hardest things we have ever had to do. How do you truly capture a life so full of grace, warmth, strength and love?
How do we say goodbye to a sister who was not only family but also a friend, a dependable confidante and, in so many ways, a pillar of strength to us all? Dartebea, you were our last born, but you never allowed that position to define your place among us.

In many ways, you carried a maturity and sense of responsibility far beyond your years. You were resourceful, dependable and always willing to show up when you were needed. You had a remarkable way of finding solutions, offering support and making yourself available, no matter the circumstances. There was a gentleness about you, but beneath it was also a strength that held so many people together, including us.

For many years, you played an important role in managing the affairs of our late mother. It was a responsibility you embraced with dedication and care, demonstrating that being the last born did not mean you had any less to contribute. You were also ever willing to run errands and follow up on matters on behalf of our brothers who lived abroad, ensuring that things were taken care of back home. You gave so much of yourself; your time, your care and your patience.

You never sought recognition; yet your impact was deeply felt. You knew how to speak with wisdom, listen with patience and bring perspective when it was needed most.

You carried yourself with dignity, and your heart reflected a depth of love that touched everyone who knew you. Your presence brought a rare comfort, the kind that needed few words; just you being there was enough. Losing you has left a silence that words cannot fill. You have left us with precious memories, enduring lessons and a love that death cannot erase.

We are grateful for the bond we shared and the privilege of having you as our sister. We will always carry that with us.
Rest in peace, Regina. Your life was a gift, and your memory will be honoured forever!

TRIBUTE FROM SISTERS-IN-LAW

Our brother, Agyata, introduced Regina to our family during a visit to Ghana from Zambia. True to his nature, he wasted no time. On the very day he introduced her to us, the two travelled to Accra and returned with everything they needed for their engagement. He then informed us that their traditional engagement ceremony would take place that very Saturday, just days after we had met her!

We were surprised by how quickly everything unfolded, but anyone who knew Agyata understood that once he made up his mind, he pursued his plans with determination. He introduced Regina to us on Thursday, and by Saturday, they were married. When he asked what we thought of Regina, we told him she was beautiful, respectful and well-mannered. We had always wondered what kind of woman would capture our brother's heart, and there she was, a calm and gentle soul. Little did we know that the lovely lady we had just met would become such an important part of our family for the next 35 years.

After the marriage, Agyata returned to Zambia, and Regina joined him later. When they visited Ghana together some time afterwards, we asked Regina how she was adjusting to married life with our brother. With her characteristic sense of humour, she joked that if she had been living in Ghana, she might have run back to her mother's house!

She explained that, like many newly married couples, they initially struggled to understand each other's personalities and ways of doing things. However, with time, they learned from one another, adapted and grew together, building a strong and successful marriage founded on love, patience and understanding.

Looking back on their 35 years together, we are grateful that their love endured and blossomed into the beautiful family they built.

Regina was much more than a sister-in-law to us; she was truly a sister. We shared many happy moments together, often teasing our brother Agyata and laughing at his expense.

Regina was warm, friendly, jovial and full of life. She had a way of making everyone feel welcome and loved, and she always received us into their home with kindness and affection.

Today, we mourn the loss of not only a cherished sister-in-law but also a beloved sister and friend. It is difficult to accept that someone who brought so much warmth, laughter and happiness into our lives is no longer with us. We will miss her joyful spirit, her kindness and the beautiful bond we shared. Dartebea, thank you for being part of our lives and for the love and happiness you brought to our family.

Your memory will remain in our hearts forever, and we will always remember you with love, gratitude and affection.
God be with you till we meet again.

May your soul rest in perfect peace.
Damirifa due, Dartebea.
Da yie, Akumaa pa.

TRIBUTE FROM NEPHEWS & NIECES

"A woman that feareth the LORD, she shall be praised." Proverbs 31:30

It is with heavy hearts that we mourn the sudden passing of our beloved Auntie Regina Dartebea Opare. Someone so full of life, warmth, and vibrant energy, her departure leaves a painful void that is hard to comprehend.

Maa Dartebea was a remarkable woman whose presence lit up every room. Prayerful, caring, and guided by deep faith, she truly embodied the strength, dignity, and wisdom of the virtuous woman in Proverbs 31. As her nephews and nieces, we were blessed to share in her love and will forever cherish the special memories we made together.

One of her greatest legacies was her commitment to family. Alongside her devoted husband, Mr. Opare, she raised their three daughters with purpose, love, and strong guidance, nurturing them into upright and responsible adults. Her life remains a powerful testament that true parenthood lies in instilling sound values and raising children who enrich society. While we wish for more time to hear her voice and share in her laughter, we take comfort in the exemplary life she lived. To Uncle David and our cousins, we pray that God grants you divine peace, strength, and comfort during this season.

Dear Auntie, your earthly journey has ended, but your love and legacy will remain in our hearts forever. Rest peacefully in the bosom of the Lord.
Until we meet again, farewell.

Da yie...!

With love and fond memories, Your Nephews & Nieces.

TRIBUTE FROM KANESHIE BISHOP BASIC SCHOOL COMMUNITY

"And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, Write, Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth: Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours; and their works do follow them."
Revelation 14:13 (KJV)

It is with heavy hearts that we honour a remarkable teacher, a devoted educator, and a woman whose love touched many pupils, colleagues, and parents: Madam Regina Offei, Class 6 Teacher, Kaneshie Bishop 1 & 2 Basic School.

When the news of her passing on 6 September 2026 reached us, silence fell over our school. Words failed us, and tears came easily. We have lost a teacher, a colleague, a mentor, and for many, a mother.

As a Class 6 teacher, Madam Regina served with commitment, patience, discipline, and love. Teaching was never just a job to her; it was a calling. She walked with children through one of the most important stages of their basic education, teaching them responsibility, respect, hard work, and good character.

Her classroom was a place where a child could ask a question without fear, make a mistake without shame, and leave believing, "I can do this."
To her colleagues, she was dependable and generous with her advice and support. To her pupils, she was a guide, a motivator, and at times, a second mother. She corrected them because she cared and pushed them because she believed in them.

Today, the desk where she sat feels emptier and the classroom quieter. Yet we are comforted by what she leaves behind. Some of the children you taught may one day become doctors, teachers, engineers, and leaders and a part of their success will carry your name, even if the world never knows it. Every lesson prepared late at night and every sacrifice made quietly went into building a better future for them.

To her family, we share in your grief and thank you for allowing her to serve our children and our school. May the Lord comfort you in this difficult season. Madam Regina Offei, we salute you.

Your footprints will remain in the classrooms you taught, in the pupils you inspired, and in the hearts of all who knew you. Sleep well, dear teacher. You fought the good fight, you finished the race, and you made a difference.

Da yie, wo awurade mu. Amen.
With love, sorrow, and deep gratitude,
The Management, Staff, Pupils,
Parents, and the entire Kaneshie Bishop 1 & 2 Basic School Community

"None of us lives for himself/herself alone.

TRIBUTE FROM DR. AND MRS. ATUAHENE & CHILDREN

TO A DEAR CHRISTIAN, CLOSE FAMILY FRIEND & SISTER

If we live, we live to the Lord, and if we die, we die to the Lord; so then, whether we live or we die, we are the Lord's."
Romans 14:7-8

Today, we gather here with heavy hearts to honour and celebrate the life of a truly remarkable Christian sister and friend. Mrs. Regina Dartebea Opare was not only a sister and friend but also a stand-in mum and carer for our children in the early days of our friendship; and also a guiding light, source of inspiration and pillar of strength in the formative years of Redemption Congregation, PCG New Gbawe.

As we remember our dear friend and colleague, a gallant soldier in Christ, as well as a long-time friend of Dr. Atuahene's since she joined the Redemption Preaching Point in 1996 on her return from Zambia with her husband and lovely children; Christie, Dorothy and Loveness (Adobea).

We have been like a Christian family and workers in the Lord's vineyard for nearly 30 years. We pray to the Almighty God to comfort Mr. Opare and children, Christie, Dorothy and Loveness, and the grandchildren whom she loved dearly.

In remembering the manner of Mrs. Regina Dartebea Opare's living and dying, let me borrow from a prayer written many years ago by Rev. Theodore Parker Ferris of the Anglican Church of Canada: "Teach me, O Lord, not to hold on to life too tightly, but Lord, teach me to hold on to life lightly; not carelessly but lightly and easily. O Lord God, teach me to take life as a gift, to enjoy and cherish while I have it, and to let it go gracefully and thankfully when the time comes.

The gift is great but the Lord God the Giver is greater still. Thou, O God Almighty, art the Giver and in Thee is the Life that never dies. Amen." It is with profound sadness that the First Senior Presbyter of Redemption Congregation mourns the death of one of its most widely and highly respected Presbyters as well as the first Session Clerk, Mrs. Regina Dartebea Opare.

As we all mourn Mrs. Dartebea Opare, we know what great trust she had in the promises of Jesus Christ, what great confidence she had in the Communion of Saints, and what great joy she had in the very thought of being a Special Guest in Heaven.

Dat, as affectionately known by myself, Dora, and the children Jennifer and Kwaku, what most church members did not know was that the late Mrs. Dartebea Opare had a hand in raising my children any time Mrs. Atuahene and I travelled outside Accra or the country. Mrs. Dartebea Opare stood in as mother and carer for my children. One day we returned from the funeral rites of a late uncle, only for our children to sing PH 725 to us, which Auntie Dartebea Opare had taught them to sing the previous night before Jennifer and Kwaku went to bed.

On all my sermon deliveries since the days of Rev. Dr. Ofosu Addo and late Rev. Asamoah Prah, Mrs. Dartebea Opare had been reading all Bible quotations and excerpts, except on the last preaching on 16th August 2026 that she was absent. So, on Monday 17th August 2026, I called to check on her, and her husband, Mr. David Opare, informed me that she was at her usual medical check-up, only to be informed days later that my gallant soldier and a good friend in Christ had passed on.

Mrs. Dartebea Opare, my family will always cherish the beautiful memories we shared together with you, especially on Sundays, whenever I delivered the sermons with your eloquent Bible readings. Who will ever read the numerous Bible excerpts and quotations for me on sermon days?

What has hit my family hard was that the last time you called on me, you requested prayer support. I did not know you were bidding me and the family farewell.

Mrs. Regina Dartebea Opare, may the good Lord keep your soul in perfect peace until we meet again in heaven.
Rest peacefully in the Lord God. Amen.

Please, I plead with the congregation to help me sing PHB 725: 1 & 2 in honour of my dear Christian friend and Gallant Soldier.

TRIBUTE FROM AUNTIE STELLA ADJEI

TO MY KID SISTER

"When peace like a river attendeth my way,
When sorrows like sea billows roll,
Whatever my lot,
Thou hast taught me to say, It is well,
It is well with my soul."

Dartebea, as I usually called her, was more than a biological sister. She was a sister in every sense of the word, someone I could always count on and who was ever willing to show up for me whenever I needed her.

I would call her, and she would respond, "Auntie Stella, me nyɛ wo dɛn?" (What can I do for you?). These simple words captured the kind of person she was, always ready to help, and always showing her love through her actions.

You climaxed your love for me when I lost my mother. At such a difficult time in my life, you stood by me and offered your support in ways I will never forget. You did all the necessary shopping errands for me, making sure things were taken care of when I had so much on my mind. After running the errands, you would ask me, "Yɛ wie?" (Are we done?).

Those little moments, which may have seemed ordinary at the time, now hold so much meaning for me.

You followed me to Asamankese and spent four good days with me, only leaving after the Thanksgiving service. Your presence, your time, and your willingness to put everything else aside to be there for me spoke volumes about the love you had for me. That is a gesture I will forever cherish.

Your love for me and my family was evident and I will never forget it. You had a beautiful way of making yourself available to those you loved, and I am grateful to have experienced that love firsthand. Though your departure has left a void that words cannot adequately describe, I take comfort in the beautiful memories we shared.

As I reflect on your life and the love you gave so freely, I pray that God will grant you eternal rest in His bosom. May He also comfort your children, the entire family, and all who mourn your passing. May the same God who sustains us through our darkest moments give us the strength to bear this loss and the grace to hold on to the beautiful memories you have left behind.

Rest well, my kind sister, Dartebea.
Thank you for being there for me, for loving me, and for giving me memories I will carry in my heart forever.

You may be gone from our sight, but the love you shared and the lives you touched will never be forgotten.
It is well, it is well with my soul.

TRIBUTE FROM
FELICIA ASUAKO & SANDRA ASUMADU

FELICIA ASUAKO & SANDRA ASUMADU

It is with heavy hearts that we, Felicia Serwaa Asuako and Sandra Asumadu, pay tribute to our dear friend, whom we affectionately called "Dartebea." Dartebea, your passing has left us with sadness, but also with so many beautiful memories of the friendship we shared.

Our friendship was full of warmth, laughter, companionship and genuine care for one another. We had our own special way of relating to each other. There was always light-hearted teasing and playful banter between us, the kind that came naturally from a close, comfortable friendship.

Those little moments brought us so much laughter, and they are among the memories we will always hold dear.
Our friendship grew stronger over the many years we served together in the Session of the Presbyterian Church of Ghana, Redemption Congregation.

Sharing in the responsibility of providing leadership and serving the church deepened our relationship and strengthened the bond we had already built. Through our service, fellowship, and shared commitment to the work of the church, our friendship grew in faith, trust, and mutual respect, leaving us with many cherished memories that will remain with us always.

Dartebea was more than just a friend to us. Her presence brought warmth and joy, and we deeply valued her friendship. We will miss our conversations, our laughter, and the simple joy of sharing time together.
It is difficult to accept that those moments have now become memories. Yet, even in our grief, we thank God for bringing you into our lives and for giving us the opportunity to share such a meaningful friendship.
Life has its seasons, and though this season of parting is painful, we will continue to remember you with love. The memories we shared will remain with us, and whenever we think of you, there will be both tears and smiles.

Dartebea, you have fought your fight and completed your journey. May the good Lord, whom we worshipped and served, grant you eternal rest and give strength and comfort to your family, friends, and all who mourn you.

Rest peacefully, our dear friend.
Dartebea, da yie.
You will be dearly missed.

TRIBUTE FROM G. ASANTE AKUFFO

TO A FAITHFUL SERVANT AND ROLE MODEL

"If we live, it's to honour the Lord, and if we die,
it's to honour the Lord.
So, whether we live or die,
we belong to the Lord."
Romans 14:8

We are gathered here today to celebrate a life beautifully lived, a faith powerfully walked, and a legacy that will forever echo in the walls of our church. To many, Mrs. Regina Opare was a pillar in our congregation. To me, she was a profound role model whose dedication to God's work completely transformed my life.

The Bible tells us that faith without works is dead, but Dartebea's faith was vibrantly alive. She didn't just attend church; but served the Lord faithfully. When I joined the church in 1999, she was a member of the IMC, and before long she became an elected Presbyter, and also the Clerk of the Session.

She seemed to be the youngest among the Session members by my observation. She was a Bible reader and also led the divine service as scheduled. She poured her entire soul into her service, and that was my admiration. Her work was never about recognition; it was a pure, joyful offering of love to the Lord.

She impacted me that much because as young as she was, she could do so much for the church. I was therefore challenged to position myself rightly so that I could also be used by the church to the glory of the Lord.
And our dear Lord who is ever faithful to a true and willing heart graciously gave me the opportunity to serve in various roles for His purpose. As I look back on how she impacted my life, I am reminded of three incredible gifts she shared:
The Grace of Service: She taught me that true leadership means being willing to serve others first, with humility and a joyful heart.

An Open Heart: She possessed a rare ability to see people who felt invisible, welcoming them into the church family with open arms and kindness.

A Living Testimony: In moments of trial, her unshakable trust in God became a compass for my own spiritual journey. While our hearts are heavy with grief today, we take comfort in knowing she has heard the words she lived so beautifully for: "Well done, good and faithful servant."

Thank you, Dartebea, for showing us how to love fiercely, serve selflessly, and walk faithfully. You have finished your race, and your light will continue to guide us for generations to come.

Rest in perfect peace.
Your legacy will live on.
Farewell, Madam Regina.
Until we meet again.

TRIBUTE FROM ANDREW OWUSU

The righteous perish, and no one takes it to heart; the devout are taken away, and no one understands that the righteous are taken away to be spared. Isaiah 57:1-2

Today, we remember a beautiful soul whose presence brought warmth, joy, and love to the lives of those around her. Although her time with us was far too short, the memories she created will remain in our hearts forever.
She was not just a friend, but an advisor and a big sister. Her corrections will be dearly missed especially whenever I am given the opportunity to preach, read the Bible or lead service.

Even though we often enjoyed our friendly disagreements, she had a genuinely good heart. She cared deeply about the people around her and had a special way of making those close to her feel loved, appreciated and valued.

Those of us who had the privilege of knowing her will always remember the wonderful person she was. It is difficult to accept that you are no longer with us. There are no words that can truly express the pain of losing someone so special. But even in my sadness, I am grateful for the time I was blessed to have you in my life. Your journey on earth may have come to an end, but your memory will never fade. You will continue to live on in the hearts of everyone who knew and loved you.

Rest peacefully, Mrs. Regina Opare. You will be deeply missed, lovingly remembered, and forever cherished.
May your beautiful soul rest in perfect peace.

TRIBUTE FROM P.K AFFUL

It is with a deeply saddened heart that I pay tribute to a dear friend, sister and fellow servant of God.

I have known you since the early days when our church began in the wooden structures. Over the years, I had the privilege of watching you grow in faith and seeing your commitment to the work of God. Our journey together in the church has spanned many years, and the memories we shared will remain precious to me.

One thing I particularly admired about you was your heart of service. You did not merely attend church. You gave yourself to the work. You served with dedication and genuine love. Your contribution to the life of the church is something that will not easily be forgotten.

Then there was our special relationship. You could always pick up a friendly quarrel with me. Sometimes, I wondered why you always wanted to argue with me, but deep down I knew it was part of the friendship we shared.
Those little disagreements, the laughter that followed and the moments we spent together are memories I will now treasure even more.

Your passing came as a great shock to me, especially because I was away from the country when the news reached me. I must confess that it really disturbed me. It was difficult to comprehend that someone I had known for so many years, someone I had shared so much with was suddenly no longer with us. Your departure has left a void that words cannot adequately describe.

My heart also goes out to your husband, who is not only your beloved husband but also a great friend of mine. I pray that God will strengthen him, comfort him and give him the grace to walk through this difficult season. May God also comfort your children and the entire church.

You served well. You loved well. You touched lives. You left a legacy. Though your departure was sudden and painful, we take comfort in the assurance that those who serve the Lord faithfully are never forgotten.

Rest peacefully, dear friend.
Until we meet again.

TRIBUTE FROM MRS. CYNTHIA BEDIAKO

TO A SPECIAL FRIEND

"Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord from now on." "Yes," says the Spirit, "they will rest from their labours, for their deeds will follow them."Revelation 14:13

Where do I start, and where do I end? I never imagined a day like this would come so soon, when I would have to pay tribute to you. As difficult as today is, I bless the day our paths crossed. To those who did not know Gina closely, she was the exact replica of the virtuous woman described in Proverbs 31.

Three things distinguished Gina:
1. She was down-to-earth and represented simplicity.
2. She knew and loved the Lord and was a prayerful person who trusted in Him.
3. She was simply a lady in the way she dressed and presented herself.

Our paths crossed in May 2012, when I went to Accra College of Education to check whether my name was on the list of those admitted to a sandwich Diploma course for 'Cert A' holders. My husband, our six-month-old baby and I arrived to find a crowd and much confusion. A lady stood a few metres away, and my husband approached her for help. That lady was Gina. She went out of her way to accompany me to the notice board to search for my name. We found it together and smiled. That was when we hit it off.

Have you ever met someone for the first time and felt as though you had known each other for ages? That was exactly how I felt.
When the course began in August, trust me, I couldn't cope! I had not studied since my last exams in 1996 and was also a nursing mother. That was when Gina became my anchor. I cried after lessons and told my new-found friend that I wanted to quit.

Gina would say, "Don't quit, you can do it." She sat me down to explain lessons and, because she was fantastic at Mathematics, patiently walked me through problems.

When we wrote our first exams, by God's grace I sailed through, although I had a D in Maths. Regi had an A and was so happy that I had not been referred. She encouraged me to get private tuition, and in subsequent semesters we were on the same page.

She taught me to balance work, motherhood and studying. I saw her as the big sister I never had. Regi was quiet, laid-back and observant. I became her mouthpiece because I found it easier to relate to everyone, while she would point out people I should approach to form study groups. She pulled me up, never left me alone and pushed me beyond my limits. We finally completed the Diploma with Second Class Lower, just a few points short of Second Class Upper. Right after graduation, Gina said, "Madam, get ready, we are going for the Degree. Go and buy the forms for Winneba." I replied, "What? I am tired ooo..." but she didn't relent until I bought the forms.
We enrolled in the Home Economics Class of 2015. Anyone who saw us on campus thought we were related. She pushed me, and we both graduated with First Class honours.

I got to know Gina's beautiful family, and our families became close. We attended each other's family programmes, from weddings to funerals. Gina never called without asking after everyone, my mum, siblings and children. We could talk for hours every weekend, catching up on our homes. Her calls were refreshing, and she always challenged me not to joke with my prayer life.

She later discovered that she and my husband had attended the same primary school in Koforidua, Nana Kwaku Boateng. They would reminisce about their days there, and I would take the phone from my husband and ask, "Why have you hijacked my call?" They would say, "It's Koforidua moments," and tell me to stay out of it.

After our Degree, she encouraged me to pursue a Master's degree. I declined because I was still in the private school and thought I didn't need it. She constantly reminded me that I never knew what opportunity might require it someday.

Regi went ahead to get her Master's. She often told me how much she missed me as her study partner and shared how God had helped her through life's challenges. Although our calls became less frequent, our friendship never dwindled.

When you told me you were leaving for Canada, we kept in touch. When we finally arranged to see each other after you returned, I was so happy. We picked up where we had left off, laughed, shared memories and talked about our families. You insisted we eat lunch. Regi, we also prayed together, and I encouraged you. The next day, you called to thank me for the visit, and I was upset. Why should you thank me? You said it was a tradition! That visit remains a memory I will always cherish.

I never expected the call that brought the sad news. When I saw your name on my phone, I picked up joyfully and screamed, "Regi!" only to hear Dotty's voice. I had lost a friend, a sister and a confidante. I cherish every moment we shared and the love you showed my family and me. Your deep faith in the Lord was unshaken, and I believe we shall meet again at the resurrection.

We love you, but God loves you most.
Nante Yie, Menua.
May you rest well in Abraham's bosom.
Till we meet again,
Forever in my heart.

TRIBUTE FROM SANDRA AWANU

TO A FELLOW SOLDIER IN EDUCATION

How do I write a tribute to someone I was still planning to do so much with? When we met in 2018 at the University of Education, Winneba, for our Master's programme, I saw a classmate, but God gave me a sister.

We entered UEW as students with big dreams, tired from work and overwhelmed by assignments, presentations, research and the long journeys to Winneba. But you made it easier. Your smile, your laughter and your ability to break down difficult theories for all of us to understand made a difference. You were brilliant, yet never proud. You were always ready to share your notes, your ideas, your food and your heart.

Regina Offei was more than a classmate; she became a sister. After school, God brought us together again in Kaneshie/Bubiashie, you as a dedicated teacher at Bishop 1 & 2 Basic School, moulding young lives, and I as Head at Kaneshie '1' Primary, leading the little ones.

Regina, you were humble, brilliant, hardworking and full of grace. You loved teaching and cared deeply for your pupils. You were a true friend with a pure heart. We shared the same passion: to see every child in our care receive a good education. You may be gone from our sight, but you will never be gone from our hearts. I will miss your voice and your advice, but the memories we shared will remain forever in my heart.

Rest well, Aunty Regina. Rest well, my classmate.
Rest well, my colleague and sister.
Damirifa Due!

TRIBUTE FROM MILLICENT ABBEY

Today, I say goodbye with tears in my eyes and love in my heart. Mama, you were a gift from God to me and my children after the death of my late husband, Jacob.

In my darkest moments, God brought you into my life and gave me reasons to live again. From 2021 until August 2026, you supported me financially every month. Even when you were out of the country, you made sure I received help, with your youngest daughter calling and sending me MoMo on your behalf. You were a rare gem, a virtuous woman who gave so much of herself just to see me, Millicent, and my children smile.

I witnessed your struggles, sacrifices and endless love. You never put yourself first; you gave selflessly to others. Indeed, your kindness touched everyone you met.

Mama Opare, it is difficult to believe that you are gone. My heart is broken, but I find comfort in knowing that God has called you home to rest. Though our eyes are filled with tears because you are no longer with us, we thank God for the years He blessed us with you.

Your legacy of love, humility and hard work will never die. You may be gone from our sight, Mama, but you will forever live in our hearts. You are not gone forever; you are only asleep in the Lord.

JOURNEY WELL, MAMA.
Your loving daughter, Millicent.

TRIBUTE FROM COLLINS OSEI-BONSU

Madam Regina Offei, you were more than a mother to me; you were a God-sent angel who changed the course of my life forever.

In 2012/2013, when you met me at our margarine shop, you took a deep interest in my education and asked about my WASSCE results. You saw potential in me and believed I deserved another chance to pursue my dreams.
You encouraged me to continue my education, recommended teacher training college to me, and personally held my hand and took me to the principal. That single act of love and kindness changed my destiny forever.

Today, I am a professional teacher because you believed in me and gave me a chance. I give all the glory to God for how far He has brought me, but I will never forget the woman He used to open this door for me.

Mummy, words cannot express how grateful I am. Your love, kindness, and sacrifice will forever remain in my heart. Though you are gone from our sight, your impact will continue to live through me and the lives I touch.

May Almighty God bless you for the seed you planted in my life, grant your soul eternal rest, and keep you safely in His bosom until we meet again in the presence of our Maker.

Rest well, my dear mother. I will forever be grateful that God allowed our paths to cross. Your kindness changed my story, and I will never forget you.

TRIBUTE FROM MRS. DELA HAMMOND

FRIEND OF TOBOSO AND DARTEBEA

A life is not measured by years alone, but by the love given to others. Mrs. Regina Opare, popularly known as Dartebea, gave so much of herself and will be remembered with deep affection and endless gratitude.

Today, we remember and honour the life of Regina, a dear friend and the beloved wife of Mr. Opare, popularly known as Toboso, whose kindness, warmth and genuine spirit touched the lives of many.

My name is Dela, and I got to know Mr Opare or Toboso, also popularly called, Akura, through a good friend who worked at the Internal Revenue Service in Koforidua. Toboso never shied away from asking serious questions and expecting meaningful answers.

His hard work took him to another country, and one fateful evening, I received a letter from him in Zambia. In it, he wrote, "I believe you can now connect me to the future wife you promised me."

I got to know Dartebea through her sister, Mama Gifty, and we all became friends. I hurriedly shared the good news with the future Mrs. Regina Opare. Those were the days before cellphones, when important matters were handled through pen pals and the exchange of lovely letters. My two friends began writing to each other.

A few months later, Toboso returned home from Zambia, and we visited Regina at her house.

Early the next morning, Regina came to my house to confess that Toboso was not pleased when she told him she would be attending someone's wedding the following day, a Saturday, because he had promised to visit her. The two of us quickly went back to see Toboso. Akura burst into laughter when he saw us coming and teased, "I knew you would come back; otherwise, it would be the end!"

Indeed, nature has a way of bringing the right people together. As the saying goes, one thing led to another, and everything fell into place. What God has joined together, let no one separate.

Their marriage was a beautiful journey, blessed with three lovely children, and their love endured until death parted them. Dartebea's generosity and compassion also left a lasting impression on everyone who knew her. Through a warm greeting, a simple smile or a helping hand, my dear friend had a way of making people feel valued and loved.

The sorrow of your passing lingers in our hearts. The many lives touched by your departure are a testament to the profound impact you made on those privileged to know you.

Rest in peace, Regina. Rest in peace, dear wife.
Rest in peace, dear mother. You will be deeply missed but never forgotten.
Damirifa due, Dartebea.
Rest in the bosom of the Lord.

TRIBUTE FROM REDEMPTION PRESBY WOMEN'S FELLOWSHIP

W"For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways," declares the Lord. "As the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways and my thoughts than your thought"
(Isaiah 55:8-9) NIV.

It is with heavy hearts that we read this tribute on behalf of Women's Fellowship to the memory of our departed Sister Regina Dartebea Opare. Dartebea, as we affectionately called her, was among the founding members of the fellowship.

She was serious about her faith and exhibited this in all her assignments especially being a Bible study teacher. She taught with all diligence. Dartebea was regular at all weekly meetings and would seek permission to be absent whenever she travelled or felt indisposed.

She paid all her dues and levies regularly to support the group's finances and growth. At meetings, she asked questions and contributed effectively on the topic under discussion. She was a lovely person but will not compromise with any wrongdoing but would point out faults when unnoticed. Dartebea will also speak her mind without fear or favour.

Our Late Sister was a proud Women's Fellowship member; she wore the fellowship uniforms with pride and dressed beautifully to meet the group's standard. Regina Dartebea, your absence from our fellowship meetings was always felt.

We visited you as a group and as individuals to pray for you and also to encourage you, but the Good Lord who knows all things and determines all things has called you home to have eternal rest where there will be no more crying, no more sorrow and no more pains.

We would have loved to enjoy your presence a little longer.
With tears in our eyes, we say,

Rest well, Dartebea, you will be deeply missed by every member of the group.
Rest Peacefully till we meet again.
Fare Thee Well Dartebea
Yehowa Nni Woakye.

TRIBUTE FROM REDEMPTION PRESBY CHURCH, NEW GBAWE

"I have fought the good fight,
I have finished the race, I have kept the faith.
Now there is in store for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous Judge,
will award to me on that day."
(2 Timothy 4:7–8, NIV)

Today, our hearts are heavy with grief. The Presbyterian Church of Ghana, Redemption Congregation, New Gbawe, has lost a true matriarch, a dedicated mother, a steadfast sister, and a deeply cherished friend. As we bid farewell to Presbyter (Mrs.) Regina Dartebea Opare, we mourn the void her departure leaves behind, yet we pause to profoundly thank God for the extraordinary gift of her life and service among us.

To many in the congregation, she was known as Mrs. Opare, but to those who walked with her from the very beginning of the planting of the congregation, she was simply known as Mama Regina or Sister Dartebea. She was one of the founding members God used to build this church.

The history of Redemption Congregation cannot be told without honoring her vital chapter. Sister Dartebea joined the congregation on 3rd November, 1996, at a time when it was in its formative stages. In those early, uncertain years, she served as a co-opted member of the Interim Management Committee, helping in the administration of the congregation.

At the point of the elevation of the church from preaching point to congregation, the first Session of Presbyters was elected on July 1st, 2001, and inducted into office on July 22nd, 2001. On that day, Mama Regina made history as our inaugural Session Clerk.

As the Clerk of Session, she was disciplined, kept records, very careful, dependable and never sought personal praise or applause for her tireless sacrifices. Although Mama Dartebea temporarily stepped away following a journey abroad in 2003, during which Mr. Emmanuel Asare stepped in as Clerk, she returned to be re-elected, continuing her dedicated role as a Presbyter until August 2013.

In 2022, she stepped forward to serve again as a Presbyter and was elected as the Assistant Session Clerk until February 15, 2026. For those who served alongside her during these later years, she was a patient but firm, guiding light and the "living memory" of how far God had brought the congregation. During the election of new presbyters last February, she was chosen once again. However, after careful reflection, Mama formally stepped down via a written note to allow her husband, who had also been elected, to serve in the role instead.

Sister Dartebea possessed a profound love for the Holy Scriptures, and she was passionate in sharing it with others. She served the church diligently as a Bible Study Teacher, a Lay Reader, and a Lay Preacher. Within our communal fellowship, her presence was felt across multiple fronts. She was among the visionary pioneers who helped establish the Singing Ministry, the Church Choir, and a founding member of the Women's Fellowship. Furthermore, her organizational prowess and spiritual maturity naturally positioned her as a capable coordinator for several other church groups.

Sister Dartebea was a remarkably warm woman with a deeply compassionate heart. She poured the best years of her life into this congregation. Much of what Redemption Congregation represents today carries her indelible mark, and her legacy will continue to speak for generations to come.
The announcement of her death on September 6, 2026 arrived to members of the congregation as a shocking news. It rippled through the entire congregation with profound grief. Yet, we take solace in the sovereignty of the Lord and in the sure hope of the resurrection.

To her beloved husband, her children, her grandchildren, and the entire extended family, we grieve deeply with you. The members of Redemption Congregation stand shoulder to shoulder with you in this dark hour, drawing collective comfort from the assurance that her exceptional labour in the vineyard of the Lord will not be in vain.

Presbyter Regina Dartebea Opare, we will miss you dearly. We will miss your reassuring voice, your seasoned wisdom, and your firm yet loving corrections. The church you helped to build will continue to march forward, and it will forever carry a piece of your noble spirit within its walls.
Rest peacefully in the loving arms of your Creator until we meet again on that glorious resurrection morning.

Fare Thee Well, Sister Dartebea.

THE FAMILY OF THE LATE

MRS. REGINA DARTEBEA OPARE

wishes to express our heartfelt gratitude to everyone who stood by us during this difficult period.
We are deeply grateful for your prayers, words of comfort, visits, calls, messages, donations and every act of kindness shown to us. Your presence and support have been a source of strength and comfort as we navigate the loss of our beloved Wife, Mother, Grandmother, Sister, Aunt and Friend.

GOD BLESS YOU ALL

Thank you
